Christ – Above All Things

FROM THE COUNSELOR

I hope you had the opportunity to come, pick up your son's/daughter's report card and meet with our teachers during conferences today. Lynn Mead worked very hard getting our first "Pinnacle" report cards ready for you. You will notice a grade point average is not provided this marking period. We are working to have this ready for our next report card which we hope to include your child's semester and cumulative grade point average.

If you son/daughter received an incomplete or "I" on their report card they have two weeks in order to finish the work for this marking period. The deadline for completing this make-up work is Friday, November 20th. Hopefully by working this week and next week our children will have the time they need to finalize their tests and turn in all work. All of the "I's" will then be removed from the report card and reprinted. Know we are working hard with and for your children to help them as they transition back to school from illness.
